Describe the educational and informational objective of the program and how it meets the definition of Core Programming.	"Ultimate Choice Florida" and "Ultimate Choice Real Girls" provides an opportunity for its young viewers to learn more about themselves and their lives, as well as to develop their own convictions about each of the moral issues explored and discussed on this television series. In "Ultimate Choice Florida" each episode presents the teens a heart stopping extreme adventure along with an opportunity to discuss that experience and its application to major real life issues. While "Ultimate Choice Real Girls" finds five diverse young women who are invited to join a revolution....a revolution to live a dramatically different life than dictated by the pop culture. These "real" girls are brought to an incredible house on the water and introduced to their new weekly routine...time with their new mentors (the show's hosts Courtenay and Shennette). Each of the episodes within these series brought them face-to-face with challenges that have lifelong implications; they shared thoughts that are designed to shape the values that will guide young men and women throughout their lives. Issues discussed include: Drugs; Compromise; Resolving Conflict; Teamwork; Fear; and Self Control. This program meets the definition of "core programming" because: 1) it serves the education and informational needs of children ages 16 years and under; 2) it airs Saturdays at 8:00AM & 8:30AM; 3) it is 30:00 in length; 4) the educational/informational objective and target audience for this program are specified in writing in KVOS-TV's Children's Programming Report; 5) KVOS-TV provides program guide publishers with instructions for listing the program as E/I 13-16 years and 6) it displays the E/I symbol throughout the program.
