Include any other comments or information you want the Commission to consider in evaluating your compliance with the Children's Television Act (or use this space for supplemental explanations). This may include information on any other noncore educational and informational programming that you aired this quarter or plan to air during the next quarter, or any existing or proposed non-broadcast efforts that will enhance the educational and informational value of such programming to children. See 47 C.F.R. Section 73.671, NOTES 2 and 3.	WUTB continued to serve the educational and informational needs of children during 1st Quarter 2015. The station aired PSAs from national and local organizations focused on the needs of children. We promoted local events and campaigns in which youth took the lead....like Scouting for Food...and events that raised funds and friends for organizations serving the children and families. WUTB commemorated Black History Month by airing Champions of Courage Essays in which Maryland teens saluted the person in their life who shared and demonstrated the lessons and legacy of Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. out of the 3000 essays received, 20 students were selected and they shared their essay with WUTB viewers and were honored at an awards breakfast. WUTB also participated in the 6th Annual BMore Healthy Expo at the Baltimore Convention Center. Family health was the focus. For youth, the Expo presented exhibitions, entertainment and engagement with organizations focusing on fitness, healthy foods, childhood obesity prevention, oral health, screenings and preventive health, positive role modeling, and healthy lifestyle choices. Station staff participates in career days at local schools and conducts tours for students and Scouts at our studios highlighting the role of science, technology in broadcasting, and broadcast career preparation.

Hosted by Pat Summerall, this program takes viewers coast-to-coast and in-depth with the brightest young athletes in sports. The series profiles high school athletes who have overcome personal adversity to pursue their dreams. The athletes are recognized for their classroom achievements, as well as their contributions in extracurricular activities. The importance of dedication, discipline, commitment to academics, and community involvement are spotlighted as part of the athletes' success. The stories strive to inspire viewers to pursue knowledge and a healthy, active lifestyle, despite any personal difficulties. This program will air on the secondary digital stream, channel 41.2.
