Describe the educational and informational objective of the program and how it meets the definition of Core Programming.	Animal Atlas is an entertaining, informative, and educational series geared toward the age group of 13 to 16. To summarize, the program in general focuses on Life Science with underlying science content standards addressed. The content, like the tone of the narration, is engaging, challenging, and avoids condescension. It manages to pack a great deal of educational information into a narrative theme that will hold young viewer's interest. Within the episode "30 MPH," (title chosen as the demarcation for exceptional animal speed), information is included on animal weight, animal behavior, animal social characteristics, and habitat adaptation in addition to the expected data on speed. Speed facts are grouped in meaningful ways. Speed champions in water, on land, and in the air are listed in addition to the overall winner (the Peregrine Falcon). Further, categories of two-legged, four-legged, and species are differentiated, as is human speed, which is effectively used as a point of comparison. The format supports the educational content. The editing style of quick cuts emphasizing high-interest visuals is well suited to the 13-16 year-old age group. The animal world presents a dazzling variety of fur, faces, body types, and movements and a welcome number of these are included. The visual elements alone present a wonderful tour of animal morphology and the emphasis on color, shapes, and faces will appropriately hold attention as the narrative delivers educational information. The vocabulary will stretch the knowledge base, and potentially new terms as "brachiating", "ungulates", are always introduced in context with supporting information ("ungulates, or hoofed animals...") as well as visual articulation. This is a very effective way to deliver educational content.

Describe the educational and informational objective of the program and how it meets the definition of Core Programming.	In this entertaining weekly half hour program, Mr. Silverman, the well-known Hollywood animal trainer and author, demonstrates how to train dogs and cats with the help of his furry friends either in-home or on location. The visual instructions are an easy way to learn the art of training our four-legged family companions. The skills learned in each half hour is not only to improve training skills but will teach young people patience, kindness, responsibility, determination and understanding - all needed in life, as well.

Include any other comments or information you want the Commission to consider in evaluating your compliance with the Children's Television Act (or use this space for supplemental explanations). This may include information on any other noncore educational and informational programming that you aired this quarter or plan to air during the next quarter, or any existing or proposed non-broadcast efforts that will enhance the educational and informational value of such programming to children. See 47 C.F.R. Section 73.671, NOTES 2 and 3.	Due to a satellite issue, KNIN-DT2 had technical difficulties on Sunday, March 23, 2014. Taste Buds and Aqua Kids did not air, and all other E/I programs on that day aired three hours later than normal. This was a one-time occurrence. KNIN ceased analog broadcasts on June 12, 2009. As a result, the analog portion of this report no longer applies. Episodes of Pets.TV on KNIN-DT2 are from a different episode sequence than the programs that air on KNIN-DT1.

Program Title		Animal Atlas on KNIN-DT2 9.2
Origination		Network
Days/Times Program Regularly Scheduled		Saturdays 11:30AM-12PM
Total times aired at regularly scheduled time		13
Length of Program		30 mins
Age of Target Child Audience from		13 years to 16 years

Describe the educational and informational objective of the program and how it meets the definition of Core Programming.	Animal Atlas is an entertaining, informative, and educational series geared toward the age group of 13 to 16. To summarize, the program in general focuses on Life Science with underlying science content standards addressed. The content, like the tone of the narration, is engaging, challenging, and avoids condescension. It manages to pack a great deal of educational information into a narrative theme that will hold young viewer's interest. Within the episode "30 MPH," (title chosen as the demarcation for exceptional animal speed), information is included on animal weight, animal behavior, animal social characteristics, and habitat adaptation in addition to the expected data on speed. Speed facts are grouped in meaningful ways. Speed champions in water, on land, and in the air are listed in addition to the overall winner (the Peregrine Falcon). Further, categories of two-legged, four-legged, and species are differentiated, as is human speed, which is effectively used as a point of comparison. The format supports the educational content. The editing style of quick cuts emphasizing high-interest visuals is well suited to the 13-16 year-old age group. The animal world presents a dazzling variety of fur, faces, body types, and movements and a welcome number of these are included. The visual elements alone present a wonderful tour of animal morphology and the emphasis on color, shapes, and faces will appropriately hold attention as the narrative delivers educational information. The vocabulary will stretch the knowledge base, and potentially new terms as "brachiating", "ungulates", are always introduced in context with supporting information ("ungulates, or hoofed animals...") as well as visual articulation. This is a very effective way to deliver educational content.
