Describe the educational and informational objective of the program and how it meets the definition of Core Programming.	This animated program has four educational goals: to celebrate the power of inventing imaginative stories, to introduce basic literary concepts, to help viewers develop listening and comprehension skills, and to enrich vocabulary through storytelling. Pinky Dinky Doo, a 7-year-old girl, lives in the "great big city" with her parents. When a problem arises, Pinky dances her way to a cardboard story box and uses a piece of chalk and her imagination to tell a story. During the made-up story, Pinky must "think big" at which point she comes up with an often clever and wacky solution to the problem. To encourage listening skills, Pinky then invites children to play games where they review details about the story. Children are helped to increase their vocabularies with each episode's "Great Big Fancy Word," which is featured several times during each episode.

Describe the educational and informational objective of the program and how it meets the definition of Core Programming.	A significant purpose and key educational objective of this program is to present animals, birds, and insects in their natural environments in order to engage the curiosity and developing intelligence of boys and girls. There is a special emphasis on nature, science, the adaptation and survival of species, and the role of species in human planetary welfare. Each episode examines topics of geography, ecology, and the ways in which non-humans, animals, birds, and insects adjust to the complexities of their specific habitats in the various continents and oceans that make up our planet. Using original footage, music, and humor, this series presents information about where animals live, how they build their unique dwellings, the tools they use for foraging, the migrations of animals due to climatic changes, and how they care for and protect their offspring. The main purpose of the series is to educate and inform young children about a variety of species and about how animals and humans are interdependent.

Days/Times Program Regularly Scheduled	SA 08:30 AM

Total times aired at regularly scheduled time	13
Length of Program	30 mins
Age of Target Child Audience from	2 years to 6 years
Describe the educational and informational objective of the program and how it meets the definition of Core Programming.	This animated program has four educational goals: to celebrate the power of inventing imaginative stories, to introduce basic literary concepts, to help viewers develop listening and comprehension skills, and to enrich vocabulary through storytelling. Pinky Dinky Doo, a 7-year-old girl, lives in the "great big city" with her parents. When a problem arises, Pinky dances her way to a cardboard story box and uses a piece of chalk and her imagination to tell a story. During the made-up story, Pinky must "think big" at which point she comes up with an often clever and wacky solution to the problem. To encourage listening skills, Pinky then invites children to play games where they review details about the story. Children are helped to increase their vocabularies with each episode's "Great Big Fancy Word," which is featured several times during each episode.
