Describe the educational and informational objective of the program and how it meets the definition of Core Programming.	All "Jack Hannah Animal Adventures" live action television programs are designed to meet the educational and informational needs of children. In all programs cameras follow Jack as he spends time with nature's creatures across the continents. Jack interacts with people that are knowledgeable about animals and their habitats, and educates as he travels the globe. Each program is designed to reveal the world in a way that presents positive role models and pro-social values within an environmentally responsible universe. In order for parents, children, and listing services to clearly identify the programs as ones that meet the FCC description of a program that meets kids educational television needs, the beginning of each program includes a 15 second video billboard with the recommended rating TV-G. The E/I rating is displayed throughout the entire program.

Describe the educational and informational objective of the program and how it meets the definition of Core Programming.	"Animal Exploration with Jarod Miller" is a half hour live action television program designed to meet the educational and informational needs of children. Each week, Jarod looks at exotic and domestic animals from his own unique perspective. Every week, Jarod travels to zoos and aquariums to explore animals that fit in a particular theme, whether its the need for speed or animal heroes--there's always something amazing happening. Filled with energy, youth and humor, Jarod is a welcome visitor in living rooms around America on a weekly basis. It is the mission of this program to inspire viewers, children and adults alike, to preserve the innate human instinct to explore. The producers design each episode to reveal to children the world around them in a way that identifies positive role models and pro-social values within an environmentally responsible universe. In order for parents, children and listing services to clearly identify the program as one that fulfills the FCC description of a program that meets kids' educational television needs, each episode will displace the recommended rating, TV-G E/I icon from beginning to end.

Describe the educational and informational objective of the program and how it meets the definition of Core Programming.	In accordance with the 1990 Children's Television Act (CTA) intended to increase the amount of educational and informational programming for children on television, "Eco Company" clearly meets the goals of providing children and young teens with a television show that meets CORE requirements of the FCC as follows: 1) Eco Company provides CORE programming in the area of the environment and preservation of the earth's resources. Eco Company explores all aspects of being green and understanding how our actions impact the world. The Eco team find out about global warming by asking questions to discover the truths and myths of the global warming issue. They learn about alternative energies by visiting wind farms and solar installations and discovering new energy technologies currently under development. They learn more about recycling, conservation and organics. The E-Team profiles teens and school organizations who have taken it upon themselves to make a difference, young entrepreneurs who are taking their passion for green to develop ideas, and new products, for a sustainable future. Most importantly, each story and each feature is reported by teens and told from their perspective. Additionally, each week the show will provide practical tips that teens, and people of all ages, can use in their daily lives. 2) Eco Company uses the technique of peer reporting. The diverse and dynamic cast of teens who make up Eco Company combine their natural curiosity with their enthusiasm to report the informational stories to teens and their families. Each episode employs Eco Company or hosts who conduct interviews of peers and adults, and experience first hand the demonstration and explanation of the topic. 3) An Eco Company website that can easily be accessed by parents providing a clear description of the program and types of topics covered. It will also provide a listing of the days and times shows are aired on broadcasting stations throughout the USA. Advanced notice of programming will also be available to parents and consumers on the website.

Include any other comments or information you want the Commission to consider in evaluating your compliance with the Children's Television Act (or use this space for supplemental explanations). This may include information on any other noncore educational and informational programming that you aired this quarter or plan to air during the next quarter, or any existing or proposed non-broadcast efforts that will enhance the educational and informational value of such programming to children. See 47 C.F.R. Section 73.671, NOTES 2 and 3.	After due review of internal station records and documentation provided to us by program suppliers, the licensee hereby certifies as follows: (i) The only programs specifically designed for children ages 12 and under that the station broadcast this quarter are disclosed in this report and (ii) The licensee fully complied with the FCC's commercial limits in children's programs, as specified by 47 C.F.R. 73.670, with respect to these programs. KFOX attempted to file its report on Tuesday, January 10, 2012, but encountered technical difficulties, namely an error message from internet explorer regarding cross-site scripting.
