Describe the educational and informational objective of the program and how it meets the definition of Core Programming.	"Animal Atlas" is an entertaining and educational half-hour program that explores the world of animal wildlife, promoting a better understanding of how various animal species live and what they need to survive. With an entertaining narrative, the series combines focused examinations of certain topics such as "Animal Appetites" (explores the various diets of animals along with information about how animals catch and eat their food, how diets determine their lifestyle, etc.), "Animal Antics", (a hilarious look at the crazy physical antics and talents of certain species), "Animal Babies" (an intimate look at babies of various species, how they are born, how they are raised and the difficulties and delights of growing up), along with shows which focus solely on certain animals such as elephants, bears, and monkeys. In these shows a thorough and entertaining exploration of the specific animal takes the viewer into that animal's world as we see where it lives, how it eats, how it plays, how the family unit operates, and what threatens and supports its survival. "Animal Atlas" also promotes responsibility toward wildlife issues by educating the viewer about endangered species and wildlife habits, as well as informing viewers how to support wildlife conservation. The program is regularly scheduled and airs between the hours of 7:00 am and 10:00 pm. The program is 30 minutes in length, and is identified as an educational and informational show, targeted to teens 13 to 16 years old, at the beginning and through each broadcast; as well as in listings provided to publishers of program guides.

Describe the educational and informational objective of the program and how it meets the definition of Core Programming.	The content and range of knowledge delivered by the pictures contained in "Animal Atlas Classics" is enough to communicate the diversity of nature from the clear, colorful footage ranges to insects to the higher mammals. Some of the photography is beautifully arresting in its presentation. The light attitude of the narration is friendly, casually informative and yet manages to deliver information in an appropriate level of vocabulary for early teens. It clearly presumes a level of knowledge that matches that age range. It meets the challenge of engaging the curiosity of the target age range without pandering and without filtering information. The editing, music, and content would hold the eye and ear while the mind is engaged. "Animal Atlas Classics" maintains the series' connection with educational standards consistent with nationally published curriculum goals in the natural sciences. This series moves viewers through the taxonomy of the animal kingdom with attention to defining characteristics and references to the habitat and differentiation of the animal kingdom complement the overview of the components of biological life in the visible world. The program is regularly scheduled and airs between the hours of 7:00 am and 10:00 pm. The program is 30 minutes in length, and is identified as an educational and informational show, targeted to teens 13 to 16 years old, at the beginning and through each broadcast; as well as in listings provided to publishers of program guides.

Include any other comments or information you want the Commission to consider in evaluating your compliance with the Children's Television Act (or use this space for supplemental explanations). This may include information on any other noncore educational and informational programming that you aired this quarter or plan to air during the next quarter, or any existing or proposed non-broadcast efforts that will enhance the educational and informational value of such programming to children. See 47 C.F.R. Section 73.671, NOTES 2 and 3.	The launch date of WFXG's Multi-Cast Channel was July 31, 2009; since then WFXG has been in compliance and has aired 3-hours of Core Programming per week as required by the FCC. Also, because station (WFXG) ceased analog operations and converted to digital-only operations prior to the start of the reporting period, Questions 7(b) and 7(c) are no longer applicable.
