Number of Preemptions Rescheduled
Length of Program	30 mins
Age of Target Child Audience	10 years to 14 years
Describe the educational and informational objective of the program and how it meets the definition of Core Programming.	The bulk of each episode consists of three child contestants answering questions to determine the location of one of Carmen Sandiego's crooks with sketches being performed to provide clues. Eventually, the contestant with the lowest score was eliminated, and the remaining two contestants played a Concentration-esque game to capture the day's crook. The winning contestant then moved onto the final round, where siren lights had to be correctly placed on a giant map as locations were named. If the player was successful in this round, Carmen Sandiego was "captured" and the contestant won a trip to anywhere in the continental United States.

Describe the educational and informational objective of the program and how it meets the definition of Core Programming.	These musical adventures delight and entertain children while teaching valuable socialization skills, such as helping, sharing, taking turns and getting along. Our focus is on helping to create "great kids" - kids who are polite, kind, and respectful; kids who are happy and secure. Developed in consultation with Dr. Dorothy Singer, PhD, Co-director of the Yale University Family Television Research Center, the material is age appropriate and provides an intelligent way for young children to absorb important concepts.

Describe the educational and informational objective of the program and how it meets the definition of Core Programming.	Mike and Will are twin brothers, who love to eat. Their show is based on experiences that started when the boys were only 5 years old. They began by helping Mom bake cookies. But as they have grown, so have their appetites. They want to share their love of cooking and eating, with as many kids as possible. Mike and Will emphasize the importance of the family group as well as good nutrition and exercise to stay healthy. There is always a parent present when they are in the kitchen.

Include any other comments or information you want the Commission to consider in evaluating your compliance with the Children's Television Act (or use this space for supplemental explanations). This may include information on any other noncore educational and informational programming that you aired this quarter or plan to air during the next quarter, or any existing or proposed non-broadcast efforts that will enhance the educational and informational value of such programming to children. See 47 C.F.R. Section 73.671, NOTES 2 and 3.	On or about January 11, 2012, a burglary occurred at the station's studios. As a result, the studio equipment was stolen and the licensee was unable to provide children's programming. In addition, the studio was vandalized and files and records were taken and/or destroyed. A report was taken by the Gwinett County Police Department and a claim was filed with the licensee's insurance carrier. (Copies of these reports can be provided to the Commission upon request as FCC Form 398 does not allow attachments.) Licensee is in the process of replacing the equipment so that it can resume providing children's programming. Its inability to provide children's programming was due to circumstances beyond its control.
