Describe the educational and informational objective of the program and how it meets the definition of Core Programming.	Set in the enchanting, Technicolor world of Toobalooba, a group of energetic "Borys" use their heightened senses, imagination and teamwork to solve everyday problems.The "Borys" may be small, but each possesses a very important and sensational skill. When there is trouble in Toobalooba, the "Borys", led by "common sense" Noonbory, sense it and spring into action utilizing their heightened senses to save the day. "Noonbory and the Super 7!" uses fantasy and fun to promote school readiness in two essential ways. First, the series provides young viewers with an enticing model for ethical actions and effective coexistence. On an episode by episode basis, the Borys highlight instances in which helping, cooperation, and leadership lead to success; and other instances in which taking an untoward risk or telling a lie lead to problems and complications. By being given a delightful bird's-eye view of the community in which the Borys live, little kids gain new information and understanding about their own environment -- seeing how the Borys effectively function as citizens, and learning to do the same. The series also aids in school readiness in a second significant way. "Noonbory and the Super 7!" gives children an opportunity to discover and practice those primary discovery and "learning to learn" understandings and skills which form the groundwork of much further knowledge acquisition. Along with Noonbory, Lunabory, Jetybory, Pongdybory, Cozybory, Totobory, and Lukybory, children learn to ask appropriate questions, and engage in fact-finding, logical reasoning, analysis, and evaluation.Airs on "digital 1".
