| Length of Program  | 30 mins   |
| Age of Target Child Audience   | 2 years to 5 years  |
| Describe the educational and informational objective of the program and how it meets the definition of Core Programming. | LAZYTOWN is anchored by Sportacus, a fit and agile hero, whose "kryptonite" is sugar, which makes him instantly lethargic. Sportacus and the program's cast of child characters are challenged in each episode with an issue or dilemma, and are opposed in their attempts to complete their mission by Robbie Rotten, who seeks to return Lazytown to its former lazy ways. The program seeks to impart to preschool and early school-aged children the importance of healthy living, and to help them understand the value of developing sound eating and physical exercise habits, while also providing them positive messages about friendship, empathy, self-respect, truthfulness and other age-appropriate life lessons. This program aired on the station's main digital stream, channel 1. |
| Does the Licensee identify the program by displaying throughout the program the symbol E/I?                              | Yes   |

| Describe the educational and informational objective of the program and how it meets the definition of Core Programming. | CLANGERS is a stop-motion animated program that follows a family of mouse-like creatures who live on a small blue planet. They communicate with distinctive whistles, and a narrator comments on the events which occur in every episode. Children learn about connectedness, curiosity, inventiveness and kindness. Episode examples show the Clangers' inventiveness by their composing music in a unique way; problem solving as they search for and find lost items; and, kindness as they help their friends through difficult challenges. This program aired on the station's main digital stream, channel 1. |

| Describe the educational and informational objective of the program and how it meets the definition of Core Programming. | TREE FU TOM is about a young boy, Tom, who enters the enchanted and magical kingdom of Treetopolis. He and his friends in Treetopolis invariably run into a problem or disaster that needs fixing. Tom then calls upon viewers to do original dance moves that will bring him "Big World" magic, so he and his friends can resolve the challenge of the day. The dance moves also get the viewer to exercise. The educational messages of the program reinforce positive socio-emotional content, using examples to model being loyal to your friends, knowing how to ask for help, doing the right thing rather than what is convenient, making an effort to share rather than be selfish, and relying on teamwork to accomplish a goal. This program aired on the station's main digital stream, channel 1. |

The trio, RRTD, is guided by Hatty, an erudite hamster who wears a hat full of questions. The three characters agree that they would like to take a particular adventure and rev up their Roly-pods, enter the Spin-Again transport vehicle and arrive at their destination. Once there, Hatty challenges them to make decisions and choose options that will lead to success or failure with their quest. Once their mission is complete, they review their effort, assemble the Roly-Pods and head home. Their adventures are varied. They might go climb a mountain, design their own fairy tale, or build a sand castle. This program will air on the station's main digital stream, channel 1. |

| Describe the educational and informational objective of the program and how it meets the definition of Core Programming. | LAZYTOWN is anchored by Sportacus, a fit and agile hero, whose "krytonite" is sugar, which makes him instantly lethargic. Sportacus and the program's cast of child characters are challenged in each episode with an issue or dilemma, and are opposed in their attempts to complete their mission by Robbie Rotten, who seeks to return Lazytown to its former lazy ways. The program seeks to impart to preschool and early school-aged children the importance of healthy living, and to help them understand the value of developing sound eating and physical exercise habits, while also providing them positive messages about friendship, empathy, self-respect, truthfulness and other age-appropriate life lessons. This program will air on the station's main digital stream, channel 1. |                 |
