Include any other comments or information you want the Commission to consider in evaluating your compliance with the Children's Television Act (or use this space for supplemental explanations). This may include information on any other noncore educational and informational programming that you aired this quarter or plan to air during the next quarter, or any existing or proposed non-broadcast efforts that will enhance the educational and informational value of such programming to children. See 47 C.F.R. Section 73.671, NOTES 2 and 3.	"WMBC News" and "WMBC Hometown," daily and weekly shows, cover many issues pertaining to children. The programs are designed to be child-friendly, non-violent, wholesome and informative. During the second quarter of 2014, for example, WMBC aired such reports as: Wynona's house holds a child abuse summit on behalf of abused and neglected children; A new report shows uninsured children declined from 9.7% to 7.5%; Centenary College has artwork on display from children artists K-12; Paterson's Mayor is pushing to a toy gun ban; Project self sufficiency participants learn science, math, social studies and English; Teaneck High students are apprehended by police after participating in a school prank; Audrey Zhang of LI is the national 2014 Doodle 4 Google contest winner; NJ Legislators discuss improving NJ college readiness; NJ high school graduation rates ranks 11th in the nation; A 2013 study shows 39% of students survey had at least one drink of alcohol in the last 30 days; Elementary school students and teachers signed a construction beam to mark the near completion of a school that replaces one destroyed by fire; NJ special Olympic participants leave the week with friendships and life-long memories; During the deadliest days of teen drivers, officials look to improve the tragic statistics. WMBC-TV's "Mountain Views" program, which airs on Saturdays, provides information and discussion on Sunday school programs, ministries for children and youth, Bible studies and other activities. The station aired numerous public service announcements that encourage the well being of children, and provides educational studio tours to children in the area. WMBC-TV does not permit any website promotions within the airing of Children's Programming.
