SUPPLEMENT TO INFORMAL OBJECTION

Gow Media, LLC (“Gow”), the licensee of Station KFNC(FM), Mont Belvieu, Texas (“KFNC” or “Station”), by its attorneys and pursuant to Sections 1.41 and 73.3587 of the Commission’s Rules, hereby supplements the Informal Objection (the “Objection”), submitted on December 23, 2020, to the above-referenced application, filed by Centro Cristiano de Vida Eterna (“Centro”), requesting the grant of a minor modification of license, through a substitution of channel and transmitter site relocation, for its FM Translator Station K258BZ, Sugar Land, Texas (“K258BZ” or “Translator”).¹ In support thereof, Gow states as follows.

In the Objection, Gow opposed Centro’s request for a channel change for the Translator, beyond the normally permissible adjacent channel substitution, premised on the alleged impermissible interference between Stations K258BZ and K259DC, Houston, Texas, arising from the latter station’s recently uncontested grant of modification of license in LMS No. 0000123855. Relying on the unsubstantiated potential for harm, Centro proposed to change its channel allotment, from Channel 258 to non-adjacent Channel 247. Centro's request was not made because the listeners of K258BZ are suffering any demonstrated actual interference, but because Centro has taken note that the recent occupant of Channel 247 has just relocated to a non-adjacent channel.

As opposed to Centro's unsubstantiated claim of interference, Gow submits that it has a high degree of expectation, as it noted in the Objection, of impermissible interference to its full-service station operations. Channel 247 only became available for use when Station K247CP, Houston, Texas (FIN: 148127) ("K247CP"), licensed to Elohim Group Corporation ("Elohim"), relocated to Channel 278 because, as it claimed, further operation on Channel 247 caused impermissible interference to KFNC and Gow was raising valid objections to such continued operation. Elohim was entirely correct and Gow has collected evidence, being submitted by this Supplement, that it and its listeners will be adversely affected by the operation of the Translator on Channel 247.

In that FM translator stations are secondary services, they have no absolute right to continue to broadcast under any circumstances. Section 74.1203(a) and the Interference Order teaches us that FM translator stations must protect full-service stations. The Association for Community Education, Inc., 19 FCC Rcd 12682 (2004). When it is evidenced, by listener communications or otherwise, that an FM translator is interfering with a full-service radio station, the FM translator licensee must shut down its operations or the Commission will shut down the FM translator in order to protect the full-service station, as provided for in Sections 74.1203(e) and 74.1232(h). Id. at 12688.

Attached hereto, as Exhibit A, are Listener Complaints in support of this submission and an Engineering Statement of Gow's consulting engineer. In compliance with Section 74.1201(k), there are 35 Listener Complainants, well in excess of the 25 Listener Complaints, as required by Table 1 to Section 74.1203(a)(3), evidencing that a substantial number of KFNC listeners have been detrimentally affected by the interference being suffered, together with an Engineering Statement showing that the Listener Complaints meet the location requirements contained in Section 74.1203(a)(3). The Listener Complaints include the following information²:

The full name, complete address and telephone number of each Listener complainant.

A clear, concise and accurate description of the exact location where the Listener complainant has suffered the interference claimed.

Statement as to actual listenership of KFNC

The signature of the Listener complainant dated within one year of this date.

The Engineering Statement confirms that KFNC is operating within its licensed operating parameters and shows the required undesired/desired data that demonstrates the interference, calculated using the Commission's contour prediction methodology, is in excess of the level that evidences impermissible interference to KFNC. The impact of the interference is harm to KFNC that cannot be easily or quickly resolved and must not be permitted to occur, especially where the former occupant of the spectrum admitted to being the cause of interference to KFNC.

Considering these factors, Gow submits that the Commission act, as provided for in Section 74.1203(b), by denying Centro's application for the Translator modification of license.

² The Declarants also indicate that they have suffered interference in their listening, which Gow has previously advised the Commission in opposition to K247CP, when it was authorized to operate on Channel 247 and Gow, relying on its listeners, objected to the continued operation of a Station causing interference to its listeners.

WHEREFORE, it is respectfully requested that the grant of a construction permit for a minor modification of the license for FM Translator Station K258BZ, as filed by Centro Cristiano de Vida Eterna, be dismissed or, in the alternative, denied.

Respectfully submitted,

GOW MEDIA, LLC

ENGINEERING STATEMENT

This Engineering Statement has been prepared on behalf of Gow Media, LLC, the licensee of FM radio station KFNC, Mont Belvieu, Texas (FIN: 52407), and in support of an Informal Objection to an application by Centro Cristiano De Vida Eterna seeking to change frequency and relocate translator station K258BZ, Sugar Land, Texas (FIN: 65769), to Channel 247. These changes, if authorized by the FCC, would cause impermissible interference to first adjacent KFNC. As Gow has evidenced in multiple proceedings against similar proponents for use of Channel 247 in the same area of Houston, this exhibit is intended to evidence that the proposed modification of the license for K258BZ will also cause impermissible interference to KFNC.

KFNC is licensed to operate on Channel 248C (97.5MHz) with 100kW effective radiated power (“ERP”) and at 597 meters Height Above Average Terrain (“HAAT”). KFNC broadcasts from a 2,000-ft. tower located near Winnie, Texas and provides documented service to areas and population within its 45dBu FCC f50,50 contour. KFNC has been operating at full licensed power continuously since 2009 following reconstruction after hurricane damage.

This Engineering Statement serves to demonstrate that the projected interference to KFNC from the proposed modification of license for K258BZ meets the new interference protection guidelines adopted by the Report and Order in MB Docket Number 18-119 (FCC 19-40), released May 9, 2019. KFNC has readily obtained over 40 Listener Declarations and is submitting 35 unique Listener Declarations identifying 48 unique listening locations which are projected to receive interference from K258BZ. This number exceeds the listener complaint requirement contained in Section 74.1203(a)(3) for a station with the protected contour such as that of KFNC.¹ These documented KFNC Listener Declarations represent only a small fraction of the listeners that KFNC serves in the relevant Houston area who would also be adversely affected by the translator's expected impermissible and harmful interference, many of whom have been previously adversely affected when another FM translator was operating on Channel 247 in the same area of Houston.

HARMFUL INTERFERENCE

The licensee of K258BZ has applied to broadcast on the first adjacent channel to KFNC. The K258BZ proposed transmitter site is located just inside the 52dBu contour for KFNC. As is reflected in the supporting materials, many of the interference complaints involves locations inside the proposed 70dBu contour of K258BZ. At these locations, the proposed translator would generate more than 25dB in excess of the allowable undesired/desired signal ratio to KFNC, which is well in excess of the -6 dB U/D threshold ratio for first-adjacent channel interference listener complaints. Exhibit B is a map denoting each location where a Listener is expected to receive impermissible interference from the proposed K258BZ (247D). Exhibit B1 is a close-up of many Listener locations between the 60dBu and 54dBu contours of the proposed translator.

Exhibit A is a chart describing the interference types and locations. The following information is gleaned from this chart:

- There are 35 separate Listeners used in this evaluation. Interference can be expected either at specific home or work locations.
- There are 51 separate and valid (inside the KFNC 45dBu contour), fixed location declarations (home and/or work).
- Each Listener's name, address where listening is specified, phone number, and coordinates of each location where listening is specified. The desired (KFNC) and undesired (K258BZ) FCC 50,50 and FCC 50,10 signal levels respectively are shown along with the D/U calculation showing the relationship between the two signals. Any location where the proposed K258BZ service is projected to be in excess of FCC allowable ratios is listed in red. The proposed K258BZ ratio is in excess of FCC limits at 48 of the 51 plotted locations.

CONCLUSION

KFNC has a long history of being forced into playing “whack-a-mole” with translators either filing for or operating on channel 247D. All, including the instant proposal by K258BZ (247D), have requested or operated in the same heavily populated area of Houston bounded by I-610 to the East, State Highway 6 to the West, Interstate 10 to the North and Alt US90 to the South. This area comprises a large portion of KFNC’s listenership. Gow has had to object repeatedly against applications or operating translator facilities first adjacent to KFNC over the last several years. Based upon the new interference protection standards, it is unquestionable that the proposed K258BZ (247D) modification of license will violate the requirement that it protect all full power FM stations from impermissible interference, from within their protected 45 dBu contours.

Gow respectfully requests that the Commission dismiss or deny the application of K258BZ as proposed to operate on channel 247D.
